PREFACE

The format of this index is adapted from that of the Index Medicus. The Index Medicus has two sections: a subject index and an author index. We have added a third section: a book review index.

The main subject headings are essentially the same as those in the Index Medicus. Since most of the headings have but one or two titles under them, we have eliminated the subheadings in all but a few instances.

The reference for each listing shows both the number and the page on which the article begins. For example:

BORKOVICH KH: Primary pulmonary hypertension. 1:24 refers you to issue number 1 (January), page 24.

The arrangement of sections is as follows:

- Part I Subject Index Pages
- Part II Author Index Pages
- Part III Book Review Index Pages
